

Iben N. Andersen is Head of the International Relations and Student Services, which is one of two Units in the Department of Academic Affairs. Iben and her unit provide services for the university leaders, students and scientific staff regarding International cooperation and mobility process all admissions to the university and facilitate various activities for the students such as Student mobility, study information, information regarding loans and stipend, student health etc.

Iben was the project manager for implementing the Quality Reform (Bologna process) at the University, and since worked with and according to the QA system at NMBU.

Iben has through her career worked in Denmark, New Zealand, Japan and in the High North at the University Centre at Svalbard.